EQUITY CROWDFUNDING

Driven by our commitment to the world and the advancement of humanity, NANOTECHFINANCIAL opens its doors to investment through the EQUITY CROWDFUNDING figure, giving space to thousands of people who wish to be part of our nanotechnology economy.

Unlike traditional crowdfunding, in equity crowdfunding a participation in the capital of the company is achieved with a return through profits, income, shares or participations of the firm.

WHAT DO WE DO?

24 years ago we were born as a small independent biotechnology laboratory outside the Nanyang Technological University - Singapore, we work in collaboration with the BTI Institute of Bioprocess Technology and the A-Bio Pharma Biopharmaceutical Manufacturing Technology Center, today we are proud scientist having participated in projects on a world scale, and having contracts with the most prestigious public and private institutions in the world. Being a laboratory of independent scientists endorsed as subsidiaries of the Institute of Bioengineering and Nanotechnology of Singapore. We are DXCCI technology Lab, a laboratory that extends to artificial intelligence, robotics, blockchain technology among other technologies.

WHY WE DID IT?

We know the oversized cost of nanotechnology and biotechnology, how lucrative it is and how huge it can be in financial matters. This year we were taken by surprise by the increase in contracts in the medical, molecular, energy and food sectors, sectors where we did not have much activity, with the arrival of COVID - 19 they increased substantially.

Our finances are strong, we had to go to the bank to supply the contracts, but the bank cannot generate more loans and going public is a long and tedious process, that is why we have opened the possibility of EQUITY CROWDFUNDING first in one of the largest crowdfunding platforms, where we obtained excellent results, but not enough, that is why we decided to create www.nanotechfinancial.com an EQUITY CROWDFUNDING platform
